

Privacy Statement

GTR Events Pty Ltd as organiser of The GOAT event respects your privacy. The Privacy Act 1988 authorises the collection of personal information in order to provide you with information you have agreed to receive regarding our events and the conduct of those events. The Privacy Act also limits how GTR Events uses your information and when and to whom it can be released.

Scope

This statement applies to the The GOAT website, associated event websites and electronic marketing and news bulletins distributed to the GOAT database.

Personal information

We do collect personal information, for example your email address, where you have provided it for information, feedback or subscription purposes.

We do not share information about you with third parties without your permission unless it:

- is necessary to provide you with information or a service that you have requested
- is required or authorised by law
- will prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to somebody's health.

reCAPTCHA

We use the reCAPTCHA service provided by Google Inc. to protect your submissions via internet submission forms on this site. This plugin checks if you are a person in order to prevent certain website functions from used by spam bots. This requires the sending of the IP address and possibly other data required by Google for the reCAPTCHA service. For this purpose your input will be communicated to and used by Google. By using the reCAPTCHA service, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above. For more information on Google's privacy policy, please visit <https://www.google.com/intl/en/policies/privacy>

Your choices

- You may request access to personal information about you that we hold. We encourage you to contact us about your personal information if you find that it is not accurate or complete
- You may opt out of any further contact from us
- To protect your privacy and the privacy of others, we will need evidence of your identity before we can grant you access to information about you or change it.

Our obligations

The Privacy Act provides you with a number of rights, including:

- you must be told why your personal information is being collected and whether it can be given to anyone else
- your personal information can only be collected for a lawful purpose
- you have the right to see what information is held about you and have it corrected if it is incorrect, out of date or incomplete (the Freedom of Information Act 1982 also covers

this)

- you have the right to have your personal information stored securely and protected from unauthorised access or misuse
- you have the right to know how your personal information will be used
- if you believe your privacy has been infringed you can make a complaint to The GOAT Aus
